Because of the variety of trucks on the market today, it is difficult to decide what style of cap gives your truck that special look. With this in mind, we have developed several distinctly different styles for most trucks, with an exciting selection of window and accessory combinations to customize your truck and enhance its appearance.

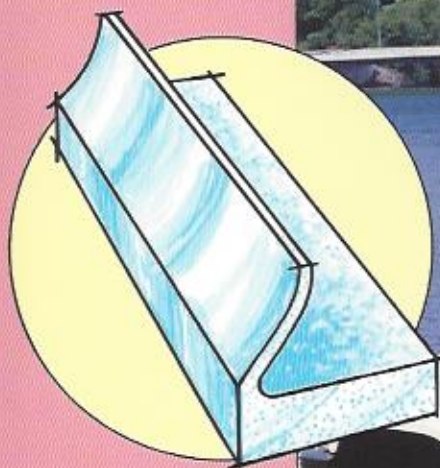

The custom-finished edge found on your truck cap is one of the exciting differences in a Jeraco Cap. The integrally molded mounting rail is totally encapsulated to ensure strength and durability. The extra work that it takes to give your cap that customized edge is well worth it: it is the strongest in the industry, with no screws or pop rivets to work loose and no unsightly extrusion to take away from that factory-finished look.

Your Jeraco Cap has been made from a mold designed and hand-crafted for your individual truck. By producing the molds in our own shop, we control the quality to ensure a truly custom fit for your truck. Our aerodynamic designs will, in most cases, give you a smoother ride and better gas mileage.

The windows in your cap have been installed with a high-grade automotive mounting rubber similar to that used by the major truck manufacturers. With this tight seal, leaks are virtually eliminated. The windows in your cap have a smooth, sleek appearance, with no unsightly screws or rings to cause injury or damage to you or your cargo.
